Presented here is the third playtest of a new Magus class for the 2024 edition of Dungeons & Dragons. The Magus aims to fulfill the fantasy of the swordmage, sometimes also called a gish or battlemage. It is to the Wizard class what Paladin is to Cleric and Ranger is to Druid, though you will see its subclasses expand that thesis into novel (and familiar) territories. Fans will recall I have previously produced another Magus class for the 2014 edition of the game, this is not that. Though they both take inspiration from similar tropes and source material, they are completely unique in design and execution. If you would like to provide feedback on this playtest, the best place to do so is the Sterling Vermin Adventuring Company discord.

Magus Class Features

As a Magus, you gain the following class features when you reach the specified Magus levels. These features are listed in the Magus Features table.

Level 1: Mystic Mark

You can take a Bonus Action action to imbue yourself with magical power and resilience. When you do, choose a Magus level 1+ spell you have prepared that has a casting time of Action or Bonus Action, expend a spell slot equal to or higher than the spell level, and choose Force damage or a damage type dealt by the spell. You gain your choice of the Aegis or Enspell benefit.

Aegis. You have Resistance to the chosen damage type.

Enspell. When you deal damage with a weapon or Unarmed Strike, you can deal the chosen damage type instead of the normal damage type for the attack.

You can only benefit from one Aegis and one Enspell at a time. While you have an Aegis or Enspell, you can use a Bonus Action to release the spell chosen using this feature as if you had just cast it. All benefits of this feature end when you finish a Long Rest.

Level 1: Spellcasting

With disciplined rehearsal, you can wage war and cast spells by rote. See the core rules for the rules on spellcasting. The information below details how you use those rules with Magus spells, which appear in the Magus spell list later in the class's description.

Cantrips. You know two Magus cantrips of your choice. Mage Hand and True Strike are recommended. Whenever you gain a Magus level, you can replace one of your cantrips from this feature with another Magus cantrip of your choice.

When you reach Magus levels 10 and 14, you learn another Magus cantrip of your choice, as shown in the Cantrips column of the Magus Features table.

Spell Slots. The Magus Features table shows how many spell slots you have to cast your level 1+ spells. You regain all expended spell slots when you finish a Long Rest.

Prepared Spells of Level 1+. You prepare the list of level 1+ spells that are available for you to cast with this feature. To start, choose two level 1 Magus spells. Chromatic Orb and Shield are recommended.

The number of spells on your list increases as you gain Magus levels, as shown in the Prepared Spells column of the Magus Features table. Whenever that number increases, choose additional Magus spells until the number of spells on your list matches the number in the Magus Features table. The chosen spells must be of a level for which you have spell slots. For example, if you're a level 5 Magus, your list of prepared spells can include six Magus spells of level 1 or 2 in any combination.

If another Magus feature gives you spells that you always have prepared, those spells don't count against the number of spells you can prepare with this feature, but those spells otherwise count as Magus spells for you.

Changing Your Prepared Spells. Whenever you gain a Magus level, you can replace one spell on your list with another Magus spell for which you have spell slots.

Spellcasting Ability. Intelligence is your spellcasting ability for your Magus spells.

Level 1: Weapon Mastery

Your training with weapons allows you to use the mastery properties of two kinds of weapons of your choice with which you have proficiency, such as Rapiers and Pistols.

Whenever you finish a Long Rest, you can change the kinds of weapons you chose. For example, you could switch to using the mastery properties of Longbows and Longswords.

Level 2: Arcane Ability

When you fail an ability check, you can imbue your effort with a magical might. You add a bonus to the ability check equal to your Intelligence modifier plus the highest level unexpended spell you have, potentially turning it into a success.

Once you use this feature, you can't do so again until you finish a Short or Long Rest unless you expend a spell slot to restore your use of it.

Level 2: Fighting Style

You gain a Fighting Style feat of your choice. Instead of choosing one of those feats, you can choose the option below.

Mystic Warrior. You have Advantage on Constitution saving throws that you make to maintain Concentration. When you fail a Constitution saving throw to maintain Concentration on a spell, you gain Temporary Hit Points equal to twice the spell's level plus your spellcasting ability modifier.

Level 3: Magus Subclass

You gain a Magus subclass of your choice. A subclass is a specialization that grants you features at certain Magus levels. For the rest of your career, you gain each of your subclass's features that are of your Magus level or lower.

Level 4: Ability Score Improvement

You gain the Ability Score Improvement feat or another feat of your choice for which you qualify. You gain this feature again at Magus levels 8, 12, and 16.

Level 5: Sword and Sorcery
When you take the Attack action on your turn, you can cast a cantrip that has a casting time of Action as part of the same action. When you take the Magic action on your turn, you can use a Bonus Action to make one attack with a weapon or Unarmed Strike.

Level 6: Sigil Surge
When you use your Mystic Mark, you gain an additional effect based on your choice of benefit.

Aegis. You have a +1 bonus to AC and saving throws.

Enspell. You have a +1 bonus to attack rolls and damage rolls with Unarmed Strikes and weapons.

If you use a magic item that adds to your AC or the same type of roll, use this bonus or the bonus from the magic item, whichever is higher. The bonus increases to +2 if you use a spell slot level 3 or 4 and +3 if you use a spell slot level 5+.

Level 9: Magical Recovery
You can regain some of your magical energy by meditating on the Tapestry and its myriad threads. When you finish a Short Rest, you can choose expended spell slots to recover. The spell slots can have a combined level equal to no more than half your Magus level (round up), and none of the slots can be level 6 or higher. For example, if you're a level 6 Magus, you can recover up to three levels' worth of spell slots, regaining either one level 3 spell slot, a level 2 and a level 1 spell slot, or three level 1 spell slots.

Once you use this feature, you can't do so again until you finish a Long Rest.

Level 10: Mass Mark
When you use your Mystic Mark, you can choose to empower a number of willing creatures within 30 feet of you up to your Magus level. When you do, choose one of the following benefits to give target creatures for 10 minutes. Once you use this feature, you must finish a Short or Long Rest before you can do so again.

Mass Aegis. Targets gain Resistance to the damage type chosen with your Mystic Mark.

Mass Enspell. When a target deals damage with a weapon or Unarmed Strike, it can deal the damage type chosen with your Mystic Mark instead of the normal damage type for the attack.

Level 11: Extra Attack
You can attack twice instead of once whenever you take the Attack action on your turn.

Level 15: Spell Resistance
You have Resistance to Force damage.

Additionally, you have Advantage on saving throws against spells and spell attacks against you have Disadvantage.

Level 18: Spell Surge
In times of need you can surge with arcane power, grasping at magic typically beyond your ability. Choose one level 6 Magus spell as your surge spell. You can cast your surge spell once without expending a spell slot. When you do, you regain one spell slot of your choice that is 5th level or lower.

Once you cast your surge spell you must finish a Long Rest before you can cast it in this way again.

Level 19: Epic Boon
You gain an Epic Boon or another feat of your choice for which you qualify. Boon of Spell Recall is recommended.

Level 20: Archmagus
You gain the following benefits.

Ability Score Enhancement. Choose Strength or Dexterity. Your Intelligence and the chosen ability score increase by 2, to a maximum of 23.

Rapid Recovery. You can use your Magical Recovery twice, regaining both uses when you finish a Long Rest.

Magus Subclasses

A Magus subclass is a specialization that grants you features at certain Magus levels, as specified in the subclass.

Arcane Order

Defend the Arcane Architecture of the Multiverse

The Arcane Order seeks to catalog the many magical wonders of the multiverse and defend the Tapestry from existential threats. You travel the world in search of long lost artifacts, magical monuments, and mystic secrets. Although some Arcane Order magi collect such prizes in a quest for power, most do so out of intellectual curiosity or the desire to preserve such treasures for future generations.

Level 3: Arcane Order Magic

You can use an Arcane Focus as a Spellcasting Focus for your Magus spells.

In addition, your training in the Arcane Order ensures you always have certain spells ready; when you reach a Magus level specified in the Arcane Order Spells table, you thereafter always have the listed spells prepared.

Arcane Order Spells

| Magus Level | Spells |
|---|---|
| 3 | *Demiplanar Pitch, True Strike, Find Familiar, Magic Missile |
| 5 | Arcanist's Magic Aura, Misty Step |
| 9 | Dispel Magic, *Waypoint |
| 13 | Banishment, Private Sanctum |
| 17 | *Reflect Magic, Teleportation Circle |

Level 3: Amethyst Mark

The effects of your mystic marks are enhanced by your greater understanding of the Arcane Order's esoteric knowledge. When you use your Mystic Mark feature, a faint purple, crystalline aura surrounds you and you gain the following effects based on the benefit or benefits chosen.

Aegis. When a willing creature you can see within 30 feet of you is hit by an attack, you can use your Reaction to swap places via teleportation. You suffer the effects of the attack instead of the creature and you have Resistance to the damage dealt by the attack.

Enspell. Once per turn when you hit a creature with an attack with a weapon or Unarmed Strike, you can force it to make a Charisma saving throw against your spell save DC. On a failure, the creature is teleported 10 feet horizontally in a direction of your choosing.

Level 3: Mystic Insights

You gain the following benefits.

Additional Cantrips. You know two cantrips of your choice from the Wizard spell list. These cantrips count as Magus cantrips for you but don't count against the number of cantrips you know.

Arcana Adept. You gain proficiency with Arcana. If you already have proficiency with Arcana, you have Expertise with it instead.

Eldritch Eye. You can take a Bonus Action to cast Detect Magic or Identify. You can use this Bonus Action a number of times equal to your Proficiency Bonus, and you regain all expended uses when you finish a Long Rest.

Level 7: Occult Savant

Choose two spells of a level you can cast from the Wizard spell list. You always have the chosen spells prepared. Whenever you gain a Magus level, you can replace one of the chosen spells with another spell from the Wizard spell list of a level you can cast.

Level 7: Lesser Spell Surge

You can cast a Magus spell you have prepared without expending a spell slot as if you had expended your highest level spell slot. Once you do, you cannot do so again until you finish a Long Rest.

Level 14: Arcane Vortex

As an action, you choose a point you can see within 60 feet. Each creature of your choice in a 20-foot-radius Sphere centered on that point can teleport up to 30 feet in a direction it chooses. All other creatures in the area must make a Strength saving throw. On a failed save, a creature takes 6d8 Force damage, is pulled up to 15 feet closer to the point, and can't use its Speed to move away from that point before the start of your next turn.

Once you use this feature, you can't use it again until you finish a Long Rest.

Level 20: Master of the Arcane

You gain the following benefits.

Amethyst Spell Surge. You can expend the use of your Spell Surge to cast Chain Lightning or Contingency.

Vexing Vortices. When you finish a Short Rest, you can regain the use of your Arcane Vortex. Once you regain the use of it in this way, you can't do so again until you finish a Long Rest.

Heaven's Guard

Make Heaven a Place on Earth

Legend has it that in a time before recorded history, an elite host of celestials guarded those humanoids favored by the gods. So well did these celestials protect their charges, the nefarious forces of the multiverse began plotting and executing their schemes in those areas hidden to the heavens—infernal realms or profane places on the Material Plane. In a time of tumult, the host decided the only way to continue to fulfill their pledge to protect good in the Material Plane was to become humanoids themselves. These were the first Heaven's Guard.

Today the nature of the Eldritch Society, and those who join it, are shrouded in mystery to outsiders. Perhaps all the Heaven's Guard are still celestials who willingly gave up everlasting life to protect that which is good. Perhaps all Heaven's Guard are reincarnations of those founding members. Or, perhaps, the whole story is a myth to begin with. Regardless of the truth, the Heaven's Guard continues to function as an order of defenders that seek out the good and holy things of the Material Plane and protect them with their lives.

Level 3: Heaven's Guard Magic

You can use a Holy Symbol or Shield as a Spellcasting Focus for your Magus spells.

In addition, your training in the Heaven's Guard ensures you always have certain spells ready; when you reach a Magus level specified in the Heaven's Guard Spells table, you thereafter always have the listed spells prepared.

Sidereal Cabal

Master Your Destiny (and Everyone Else's Too)

Magi in the Sidereal Cabal consult the stars to foresee the future and intercede at moments of particular import. Once, long ago, the cabal followed a philosophy of balance, believing that destiny and free will should be given equal weight. Today the cabal is largely split into two camps, kismetists and volitionists. Kismetists prefer indirect or discrete methods when possible, believing that active and obvious interference in the world's affairs might cause a disruption in the natural order of fate. They work to ensure that fate isn't thwarted by powers outside its reach. Volitionists find pivotal moments where the road of destiny forks and interject themselves to force the outcome they prefer.

Level 3: Sidereal Cabal Magic

You can use an Astrolabe or Arcane Focus as a Spellcasting Focus for your Magus spells.

In addition, your training in the Sidereal Cabal ensures you always have certain spells ready; when you reach a Magus level specified in the Sidereal Cabal Spells table, you thereafter always have the listed spells prepared.

Sidereal Cabal Spells

| Magus Level | Spells |
|---|---|
| 3 | Misfortunate Missile, Overexposure*, Bane, Bless* |

Level 3: Starlit Sight

You must choose to do so before the roll. This foretold roll can be used only once. When you finish a Long Rest, you lose any unused foretold roll.

Revelator's Eyes. You gain proficiency with Perception. If you already have proficiency with Perception, you have Expertise with it instead.

Level 7: Celestial Clockwork Control

Your extensive study of the stars has taught you to twist the heavenly mechanics of fate in your favor. After a creature you can see within 60 feet of you makes a D20 Test you can expend a spell slot to modify the result of the roll. When you do, you can choose to either increase or decrease the result of the roll by the level of the expended spell slot, potentially turning a failure into a success or vice versa.

Once you use this feature, you can't use it again until the start of your next turn.

Level 14: Seal Fate

When a creature that you can see within 60 feet makes a roll with Advantage or Disadvantage, you can seal its fate. The creature rolls three d20s, rather than two, using the highest result if it had Advantage or the lowest result if it had Disadvantage.
